

ED RODRIGUEZ

Ed is president of Connectiv Solutions, LLC, a government relations, business development, and management consulting firm based in Tallahassee, Florida. The firm's focus is mixed-income housing and mixed-use real estate development as well as business and economic development. In addition, Mr. Rodriguez is Florida Director of Progress through Business, Inc., a not-for-profit organization focused on stimulating business and economic development in underserved communities throughout the U.S.

Prior to starting-up Connectiv Solutions, Ed's career spanned the public (Governor Jeb Bush's and President George H.W. Bush's administrations), private (GMP Companies, IBM Corporation, Coopers & Lybrand Consulting, and AT&T Corporation) and not-for-profit (RAND Corporation; Florida Black Chamber of Commerce) sectors as well as military service (Air Force Academy, Air Force Reserve and Naval Reserve). A native of San Juan, Puerto Rico Mr. Rodriguez speaks Spanish and some Portuguese. He has lived, traveled and conducted business in Europe, Asia and Latin America. Moreover, his education includes a BA from the University of Texas at Austin, an MBA from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania, and an MPA from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

Ed was founding chair of the Florida Black Chamber of Commerce, chaired the Florida A&M University International Business Advisory Council, served on the U.S. Small Business Administration Regulatory Fairness Board, and currently serves on the U.S. Department of Treasury Community Development Advisory Board, the SBA North Florida District Advisory Council, and the boards of the Florida A&M University Institute on Urban Policy and Commerce, the Florida State Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, the Florida Black Chamber of Commerce, and the Florida Children's Campaign. He is a graduate of Leadership Florida Class XXIV and Leadership Tallahassee Class XXII.